

Drop-In Disability Programme

1. What is SG Enable's role in the application process?

SG Enable will provide you with information that will help you make an informed decision regarding the choice of service for persons with disabilities. Information shared will include location of services, types of services offered by the service providers (e.g. therapy) and estimated wait time to enrolment. Thereafter, SG Enable will submit a referral to the service provider.

2. How does the referral process work?

SG Enable will assess the referrals based on whether:

- the applicant meets the eligibility criteria for the Drop-In Disability Programme (DDP).
- the application form has been properly completed and is accompanied by the necessary supporting documents.

If the above criteria have been met, SG Enable will send the referral to the DDP.

The DDP will then arrange for an interview with the applicant and caregivers to determine whether he/she is suitable for their service/programme. The DDP might also initiate a trial admission/transition programme to see if the applicant is able to adapt to the centre's environment.

3. Can I place my family members on the waiting lists of different Drop-in Disability Programme (DDP) centres at the same time?

No, your family member can only be referred to one DDP and be on one waiting list at one time.

4. Can I reapply if I have previously withdrawn my family member's application or turned down an offer for Drop-in Disability Programme (DDP)?

You may reapply for the programme, however, you are required to go through the application process again.

5. What are the government-funded Drop-in Disability Programmes (DDPs)?

You may download the Service Matrix to view the list of DDPs.

6. Can I visit the centres before deciding on my preferred choice for my family?

Yes. As it is up to the centres to decide if they allow visitors, you are advised to contact them to schedule a visit. The centres' contact details are available in the Drop-in Disability Programme Service Matrix \(PDF\).

7. What are the fees for Drop-in Disability Programmes (DDPs) placement? How much subsidy am I entitled to?

The fees may vary from the programme that the applicant is enrolled in. You may contact the service providers directly to enquire on the fee.

All government-funded programme have subsidy schemes in place to help families defray the programme fees.
